

18 September, 2006

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is written on behalf of Margaret Kohut, freelance writer. I was Mrs. Kohut's Executive Editor from May through August, 2006 and as such was privileged to read 25 articles that Mrs. Kohut wrote on the topics of pets, wellness, and lifestyles. Margaret is a gifted writer who turns in error-free work well ahead of schedule.

Each article and manuscript she writes spins an interesting tale rich in details. She is capable of producing captivating articles, provocative ad copy, and factually accurate white papers and academic, thoroughly well-researched professional material. She produces work very quickly and with much originality. Margaret has a gift for creating interesting, eye-catching titles and writes in perfect APA, MLA, and Chicago styles.

Margaret is an enthusiastic writer who truly enjoys her work and takes pride in producing quality copy. Please consider her for any project you have for a competent, thoroughly professional freelance writer.

Best Regards,

Rita Rizzo, MSc, CMC
CEO, Rizzo & Associates

I have thoroughly enjoyed writing and publishing with Margaret Kohut. We co-authored several academic works together, and it was Margaret's skill as a writer and researcher that made these endeavors a success. Her ability to take many complex ideas and form them into academic and general interest manuscripts, presentations, workbooks, on-line material and textbook chapters is unsurpassed. Margaret is exceptionally well-organized, an asset for any writer. Margaret meets deadlines and never fails to provide top-quality work. Because of her many skills, her outstanding command of the English language and her unfailing reliability, I will work with Margaret again at every opportunity.

Mark S. Carich, Ph.D.
Director, Sex Offender Treatment Program
Big Muddy Correctional Center, Illinois

It has been my pleasure not only to work with Margaret Kohut as her editor and co-author, but to know her as a person, a writer, a social worker, and an adept psychotherapist. Margaret is a meticulous researcher on both academic and general interest material and a fluent, exemplary writer. She is wildly enthusiastic about her work as a professional freelance writer; she learns new skills and new information very rapidly, using all her well-practiced skills to build new ones. Margaret is always receptive to editorial feedback and her inquisitive mind is an asset to all who work with her. It's been my experience that Margaret meets deadlines and is completely accurate and reliable in performing writing projects for her clients. I hope to write with Margaret again at any opportunity.

Steve Slavik, M.A., CCC
Individual & Marital Counseling
Retirement Counseling
Editor, The Canadian Journal of Adlerian Psychology